Cornell University,
ITHACA, N.Y.

Dear Mr Kerr,

I understand that Mr L. F. MANNEKE has applied for a fellowship at Cornell University. I am able to declare that Mr Manneke followed my courses in Econometrics at the Netherlands School of Economics and appeared to be one of the active students of his group. He also was a junior research worker at the Netherlands Economic Institute and results of his work were satisfactory to good. He showed more than average intelligence and a good understanding for the problems investigated. He was a pleasant member of the team and worked hard. I am glad to recommend him for a fellowship.

Yours very sincerely,

J. TIMBERGEN
