

March 27, 1950

Professor J.E.Meade,
The London School of Economics and Political Science,
Houghton Street,
Aldwych,
London, W.C.2.

My dear Meade,

Thank you for your letter of March 13. I think you are completely right, and it is a very interesting example of the difficulties one has to detect the true structure of a system of equations. It would be nice if you wrote an article about it.

With best personal wishes,

yours very sincerely,

March 27, 1950

Professor J.E. Meade,
The London School of Economics and Political Science,
Houghton Street,
Aldwych,
London, W.C.2.

My dear Sir,

Thank you for your letter of March 15. I think you are completely right, and it is a very interesting example of the difficulty one has to detect the true structure of a system of equations. It would be nice if you wrote an article about it.

With best personal wishes,

Yours very sincerely,