Dear Mr Pesmazoglu.

I thank you very much for sending me offprints of your most interesting articles. It was a pleasure to see that you made a useful application of my statistical material. I think your new approaches to the explanation of investment fluctuations are very important, and I am curious how far they will change the nature of the business cycle mechanism. I was pleased to see that you also obtain low elasticities for imports and exports.

I hope that we continue to exchange publications!

Yours very sincerely,
