Gentlemen,

Thank you very much for sending me by your letter of April 11 a copy of Prof. Tintner's important book on econometrics. I just finished reading it and writing a book review for the international journal KYKLOS. My main impression of the book is that it is an excellent survey of mathematico-statistical methods of very great use to more advanced students. Although I think that the didactic qualities for such countries as Central European ones could have been better and the book could have been illustrated with some more graphical material, I nevertheless do think that it fills a gap and will have a great success. I sent a copy of my review straight to Prof. Tintner since it is in German.

Yours very sincerely,
